

CHANDLER SIX

Chandler Leadership is Established by Its Superior Service

The Chandler is a handsome car of distinguished gracefulness in each of its models, roomy and restful in its seating arrangements, splendidly upholstered and finished. Its character and beauty appeal to the discriminating.

These qualities are an outer mark of what is underneath. Chandler leadership among all sixes is founded primarily on the excellence of the one standard chassis. The Chandler holds this leadership because of its superiority of service to its host of owners, the desired performance under all conditions and the genuine satisfaction which it gives them.

The Chandler Leads, Too, Because of the Fairness of its Price

An oversold production has never marked up the Chandler price. Cars which were competitive with the Chandler two years ago are not competitive today. You can prove this for yourself by a careful comparison.

Let us show you how the Chandler checks in essential features of construction with many of the highest priced cars, and how cars priced at hundreds of dollars more than the Chandler do not check.

OFFICIALS FAR FROM SOLUTION OF BOMB PLOT

First "Leads" Go Astray and "Star Witness" is Sent to Hospital for Observation

New York, Sept. 21.—Federal and police authorities today were admittedly as far as ever from the solution of the mystery surrounding the explosion that spread death and destruction in Wall street last Friday.

Clues at first apparently promising have not developed and today virtually the only trail being followed was that supplied by Samuel B. McElhinney, president of the West Indian Trading company who told newsmen he remembered seeing three suspicious men hastening from the front of the United States post office a few moments before the detonation knocked him unconscious.

Hope of developments from questioning Edward P. Fischer, lawyer and former employee of the French high commission and Alexander L. L.ovsky, Russian journalist, went glimmering with the commitment of the former psychopathic observation in Bellevue hospital and the unconditional release of the latter after authorities had satisfied themselves he had nothing to do with the case.

GUARD CUSTOM HOUSE

New York, Sept. 21.—The New York custom house was under the heaviest guard in its history because of the warning received yesterday that the Wall street explosion would be followed by the blowing up this afternoon of the great government structure. Although both local and government authorities were inclined to regard as a hoax the postcard received by Collector Edwards setting 2 o'clock as the hour for the explosion they took no chances.

Officer workers en route to work found scores of coast guards carrying rifles and side arms entering the custom house. In addition scores of U. S. customs guards had been mobilized

Rheumatism Comes

From Tiny Pain Germs

First of all, get it firmly fixed in your mind that all the liniments in the world have no effect whatever on Rheumatism.

A very common form of Rheumatism is caused by millions of tiny disease germs which infect the blood. The one and only sensible treatment, therefore, is one which cleanses the blood of these germs, and routs them entirely out of the circulation.

This is why S.S.S., the greatest known blood purifier, is so successful in the treatment of Rheumatism. It is a powerful cleanser of the blood, and will remove the disease germs that cause your Rheumatism, affording relief that is genuine.

Clean Collars, Breathing Space and Coolness

Size up the well-dressed, snappy, efficient-looking men you meet in your business day.

You'll find most of them wearing trim, starched collars.

The man of affairs, the man who is climbing, wears the starched collar, not only because there's nothing else so appropriate for business, but because the wide-awake man applies to his dress the same efficiency that wins him success in other things.

He knows that a starched collar, which doesn't cling chokingly to his neck, which remains erect and leaves plenty of breathing space, and which is free from soft meshes that clog with dust and perspiration, is the coolest thing he can wear.

And, of course, correct laundering plays a big part in the comfort he enjoys, as it will in yours. Profit by his example—wear starched collars, and we will keep them clean for you. Just include them in the family bundle when wife, or mother, sends the family washing, and at the same time if you have something that is to be dry cleaned we will take care of that also.

NEBRASKA TO VOTE CHANGES IN ORGANIC LAW

Forty-one Amendments Before Voters of State in Tuesday's Election

INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

Working Conditions of Women and Children are Issues on Ballot

Omaha, Neb. Sept. 21—Nebraska voters will decide tomorrow whether they will write a provision for an industrial commission empowered to determine controversies between employers and employees in any business or vocation affected with a public interest, into the state constitution.

The proposition comes up in an election on 41 amendments drafted by a constitutional convention which met last December. It also aims at elimination of unfair business practices and curtailing of profiteering.

"HELLO GIRL" NOW STENOGRAPHER

Miss Alice Nelson, former telephone operator, fit that a typewriter key and offered better opportunity in the telephone switchboard.

She took a course at Dakota Business College, Fargo, N. D., and now has a fine place with Rourke & McKone Wholesale Co.

Dakota Business College attracts ambitious young people, brings out their latent abilities, and helps them to find their way in the world.

"Hello, the success story," writes L. J. Ward, president of the college, "is a girl who, after a few months' study, is able to take a position as stenographer, typewriter operator, or in any other business."

The language of the industrial commission is as follows:

Article to Supreme Court.

There may be created, providing for the investigation, submission and determination of controversies between employers and employees in any business or vocation affected with a public interest, and for the prevention of unfair business practices and unreasonable gains in any business or vocation affecting the public welfare. An industrial commission may be created for the purpose of administering such laws, and appeals shall lie to the supreme court from the final orders and judgments of such commission.

Organized labor has made vigorous objection to the proposition. Samuel Campers, president of the American Federation of Labor, characterized it as more far-reaching than the passage of a mere law for such a court as has already been done in Kansas. He declared the amendment would not benefit the public but would react on the whole people and operate to the detriment of the law. Mr. Campers called on the Nebraska state federations of labor to wage an active campaign against the adoption of the amendment.

Other amendments to the Nebraska constitution to be voted upon tomorrow authorize laws to regulate working conditions for women and children and fix a minimum wage to them; provide a state budget system; require the concurrence of five out of six supreme court judges to declare any law unconstitutional; permit voting by Nebraska electors serving in the regular army; and require that common school branches in Nebraska schools be taught in English.

Women, acting under provision by the constitutional convention will vote on a proposal to amend the constitution to give themselves unrestricted suffrage.

FUNERAL HELD FOR PROMINENT M'LEAN PIONEER

Hans Hultberg, Resident of North Dakota for Many Years, Is Laid to Rest

DIED IN HOSPITAL HERE

Funeral services for the late Hans Hultberg were held at Washburn, Sunday afternoon, September 19th at the M. E. church, L. R. Burgum officiating. The quartette composed of Misses Brummund and Olaf and Messrs. Thompson and Borchert sang the favorite hymns of the departed. The pallbearers were Messrs. John Satterlund, Ole Gradin, Joseph Man, Hans Nygaard, Hans Hanson and Aug. H. Wahl. These men came to North Dakota in the early eighties with Mr. Hultberg. It is estimated that a thousand people including all the old settlers were in attendance. The body was laid to rest in River View cemetery one mile east of Washburn.

Hans Hultberg was born near Stockholm, Sweden, July 12, 1852 and passed from this life at the Bismarck hospital, September 15, 1920 at 9 o'clock in the evening. Mr. Hultberg came to America at the age of 27 and located in Minnesota. In the fall of 1882 he came to McLean county and filed on a homestead near the present site of Coleharbor, being the NW 1/4 of Sec. 4 Twp. 146 Range 83. He lived on this description until 1888 when he went to Montana and engaged in construction work with the Great Northern railroad which was then building its way through the sister state. In 1890 he returned to North Dakota and rented the Sewald farm four miles north of Washburn, having in the meantime disposed of his homestead. In 1894 he was elected sheriff of McLean and served two terms retiring in 1904. In 1907 he was married to Freda Killian, and to this union was born one daughter, Freda Caroline Hultberg, who survives the death of her father. Freda Killian Hultberg died in 1898. At about this time Mr. Hultberg purchased section 25-145 N. 1 and began the improvement of the same. Subsequent to his retirement from the sheriff's office he was elected county commissioner and served several years in that capacity.

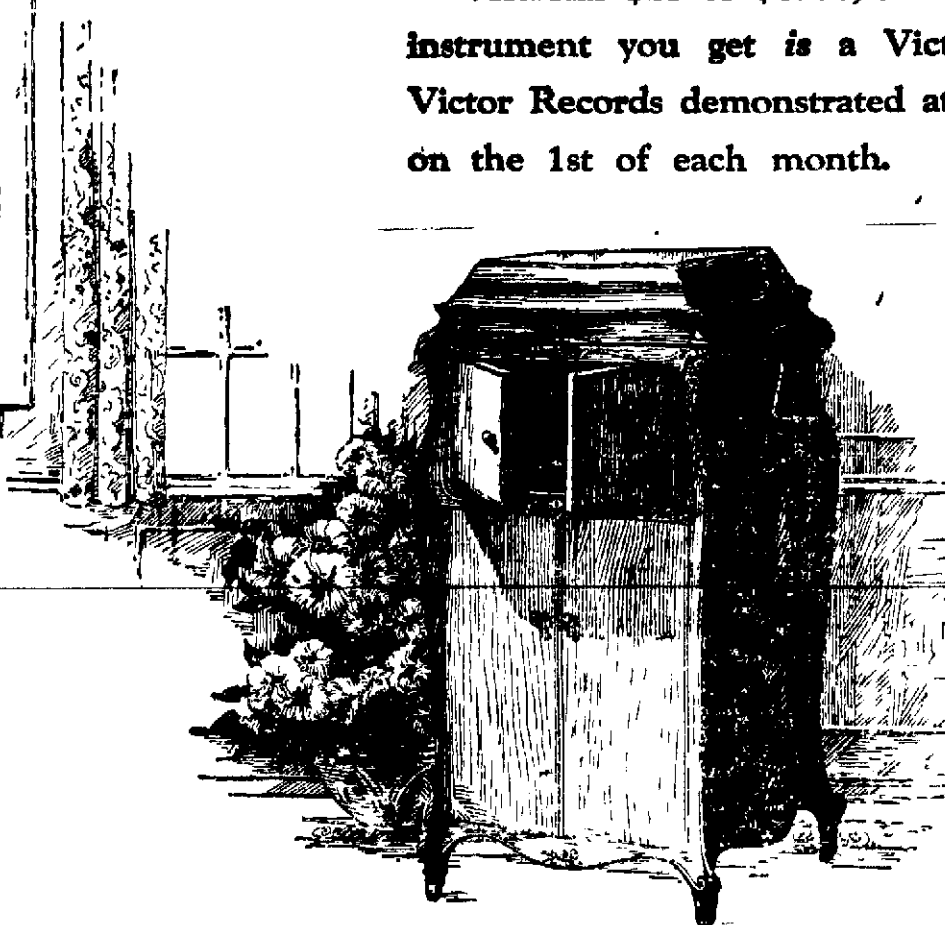

In the fall of 1904 he was married to Susanna Skaley and to them four children were born: Clara, Emma, Hilda Alvina, and Lorena and Walter. Ferdinand, Mrs. Hultberg and the children, together with the daughter, Freda, accompanied Mr. Hultberg on his recent trip to California for the betterment of his health. The change of climate, however, was of no avail and the cancerous tumor of the stomach finally claimed his life. Fully realizing that death was awaiting him he made the return trip to North Dakota from San Diego in the fall of 1919, that he might spend his last days where he had spent his active years. Mr. Hultberg was surviving him one brother, Peter Hultberg of Coleharbor and another brother and two sisters in Sweden.

Hans Hultberg was a pioneer of McLean county and was one of those who made the sacrifice which is necessary in the building of a commonwealth. He was constructive in his endeavors and on his farm north of Washburn are some of the finest improved buildings in the state. There still remains the remnant of the old log cabin in which he began his work and the contrast between the old and the new reminds us of what a man can accomplish who has an objective and is not afraid of toil. Mr. Hultberg was highly respected by all who knew him and he had a wide acquaintance in McLean and adjoining counties. He was a life long member of the Lutheran church and was also a member of the Knights of Pythias lodge of Washburn. His departure is a matter of deep regret to all those who had come in contact with his life.

HOLDS RECORD FOR KISSING IN MINNESOTA

Probate Judge Takes Privilege With 150 Married Women

St. Peter, Minn., Sept. 21—Henry Moll, judge of probate for Nicollet county, is believed to have the Southwestern Minnesota record for kissing other men's wives.

During the eighteen years that he has been probate judge here, he has taken this privilege with no less than 150 other married women, according to his own official records. Judge Moll has married that many brides and if his reminiscences are to be believed he very seldom encounters one of the blushing young things who refuses a kiss from the genial old judge on the completion of his job.

But his wife gets all the wedding fees. She made him agree to that the day he was elected for the first time.

MISS NIELSON PRAISED

The fight made by Miss Minnie J. Nielson, state superintendent of public instruction of North Dakota, to save the educational machinery and institutions of that state from perversion to political contention and use, was commended in a statement today by Dr. C. A. Prosser, director of Dunwoody institute. Miss Nielson speaks at the Auditorium Wednesday evening under auspices of the fourth and fifth district organizations of the Federation of Women's clubs. She will tell the story of the contest in North Dakota.

"With a poise, a firmness, a determination and a courage seldom witnessed even among officials long skilled in politics and political affairs," said Dr. Prosser, "Miss Nielson has stood for the rights of her office, and has done in such a way as to win the respect of the people of North Dakota and surrounding states. The story she has to tell is to my mind more than an indictment of a political regime. It is, on the one hand, a warning to the American people against the aggressions of practical politics in educational affairs, and, on the other hand, an example of what a courageous official should do in withstanding these attacks."

"However fierce may be our controversies and however far they may be carried, they should stop at the threshold of the public school house, and a determined public sentiment must see that men in the fierceness of partisan strife shall not so forget themselves as to attempt either for motives of personal revenge or for party advantages to use educational machinery, the public educational institutions, of a community, a state or a nation for any other purpose than that of the fearless professional administration of the sacred duty of training the youth of the nation in the elements and fundamentals of American citizenship."—Minneapolis Journal

Time will be given on the program for each department chairman to present her plans and the recommendations of the outgoing administration and the incoming boards will be taken up in detail.

A visit will be made to the new headquarters of the general federation maintained at 415 Maryland building with Mrs. Henry Lockwood in charge. The final day of the conference will be given over to consideration of the character of the federation program for the ensuing year, the invitation for the next council meeting and the biennial convention, the War Victory commission and the appointment of additional committee members.

Chautauqua Women's Club, of which Mrs. Pennybacker is president, will extend a formal invitation to the board asking that the 1922 convention of the federation be at Chautauqua, New York, it was said.

Social Functions Planned

A dinner and reception will be given Wednesday evening at the Fine Arts building. Washington club women are arranging a number of social functions in honor of the visiting women to be given immediately after the adjournment of the conference and for which they expect a number of women to remain.

The committee on Americanization of the department of citizenship of the federation, has endorsed the same qualifications for citizenship for men and women and has mapped out a two-year program by which it hopes to bring about a proper conception of what the term "Americanization" means.

The committee definition is "The giving of knowledge of American ideals, customs, institutions, and history of the foreign born and an assimilation of his knowledge by him." In order to combat the existing social and economic conditions and the extensive distribution of literature calculated to destroy the government the committee has planned the following program.

Americanization Program.

Distribution of patriotic literature here the fostering of American ideals and standing for positive Americanism. Making English the basic language in all schools. Sponsoring schools of citizenship in conjunction with the public schools, a certificate from such schools to be a qualification for educational test for naturalization.

Helping in the establishment of citizenship classes in cooperation with the Bureau of Naturalization and by having impressive ceremonies of naturalization. By providing short courses of citizenship each year, especially for applicants for final citizenship papers and for the native born in need of such instruction.

In bringing about Americanization courses to be supplied in the regular curriculum of normal, college and high schools.

The use of lard in cooking again proved old-fashioned and expensive

ANIMAL fat soaks up in the food when you cook with it. This is not only wasteful, but it makes the food greasy and indigestible.

Mazola, the Great American Cooking Oil, is used so hot it cooks the outside of the food quickly. Hence it doesn't soak into the food—to anything near the extent of lard.

This fact was again demonstrated when Mrs. A. Louise Andrea, famous expert in modern cookery, fried 25 1/2 lbs. of fish steaks in 2 lbs. of Mazola. The same amount of lard fried only 16 1/2 lbs. The fish steaks were cut to an average thickness of one inch.

During the same series of experiments—which can be duplicated by anyone interested—Mrs. Andrea fried 24 1/2 lbs. of potatoes in 2 lbs. of Mazola, while the same amount of lard cooked only 7 lbs. 14 oz. of potatoes.

Also, of doughnuts, Mrs. Andrea fried 208 in 2 lbs. of Mazola, while 2 lbs. of lard fried only 138 doughnuts.

No wonder Mazola is acclaimed by more than seven million housewives, and that it is found universally in the best hotels, clubs and dining cars of leading railroads.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1878)

USEFUL GUIDE

Several states are planning the adoption of industrial court laws, following the example of Kansas.

Kansas' experience will be a useful guide.

It is becoming evident that a mistake was made in combining with the Kansas Court of Industrial Relations the former Public Utility Commission.

Not only is the work of either body enough for one group of men, but the two have nothing in common.

The men who have the job of preventing strikes must first and foremost be experts in human nature. Those who decide whether telephone or railway companies may raise rates or change their schedules of service must be, primarily, experts in finance and operation.

The one function is social; the other is technical.

States that create a Court of Industrial Relations should keep their Public Utility Commissions. There should be the best cooperation between the two bodies, but no overlapping.

Don't try to stop a fist fight and regulate a machine with the same instrument.

Mothers-in-law don't seem so objectionable since high rents have forced many young couples to live with the old folks.

TRAVELING BOOKS

"Read books," advised a very wise citizen. "What books?" he was asked.

"Any good books," he replied; "makes little difference what books, so they are well written, which implies accuracy of information and honesty of purpose."

This is easy enough for city dwellers. The rural resident, though, cannot so readily accept the advice. The nearest library is miles off, and he has reread every book in his neighborhood. The answer?

Traveling libraries!

Maine, as Maine so often does, takes the leading position of all states in supplying her country folk with good books to read. Maine has 500 free libraries. They're on the go all the time. The libraries are sent out by parcel post and express, in boxes made for that purpose; not only to village schools, but the granges, department stores, Sunday schools, manufacturing establishments, and community groups.

Maine is the first state to include cities in the traveling books' circuit, thus placing good reading matter before the eyes of factory worker, the shopgirl, and others, who, because the city library is blocks distant, forego the pleasure of reading good books.

The world may have been made safe for democracy but the auto drives takes the same old chance at the railroad crossing.

BRAINS AND LEARNING

"Intelligence," "brains" or "ability" must be distinguished from information, knowledge or learning. Indeed, someone has defined a pedant as one who has got rid of his brains to make room for his learning.

Ordinarily, school examinations test information along particular lines. But the "intelligence tests" which psychologists invent are intended to measure brains—not learning so much as the capacity to learn. And if they include questions about authors, inventors or movie actors, this is simply because it has been found that bright people pick up more general information than dull ones. General information, however, is only one of several indications of intelligence which such lists measure and in the tests it is not valued for itself but only as a sign of intelligence.

Since intelligence or brains is different from information it is misleading to talk of the "intelligent" classes when one means the educated classes, or, perhaps, even only the prosperous classes, for thought it usually takes brains to get an education or to make a fortune, bad luck may keep a brainy person out of either.

It is the business of a college to give an education to those who are fitted to receive it, regardless of class. But certain kinds of education demand preliminary knowledge.

One cannot study engineering without mathematics, and so a certain amount of mathematics is a reasonable requirement for those who would enter an engineering college; and in the same way a certain amount of Greek, Latin and mathematics was necessary for those who entered a college in which these were the main subjects taught. But there are many subjects taught in the colleges today which do not require such preliminaries.

One can learn much about biology, chemistry, sociology, and psychology without special training along any given line if he only has the brains. And so various colleges are beginning to admit students to their work without a high school training at all, if they can pass the mental tests that show that they really have the brains, even though they have not done the conventional work that high schools demand. This is sensible and democratic.

Is it proper to call the suffrage vote the silent vote?

Both candidates keep busy in spite of the result in Maine.

Six thousand divorces granted in Chicago in a year. No wonder the law schools are building new dormitories.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinions of The Tribune. They are reproduced in the order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

THE WILSON-COX LEAGUE APPEALS TO MAINE AND GETS A GRUESOME ANSWER

In estimating the significance of the stupendous Republican victory in Maine one outstanding fact ought to be kept in mind: Since the fall of 1918, when President Wilson got his answer to his appeal to the country for a vote of confidence in his policy, his administration and his then dimly developed designs of internationalism, there has been no occasion when the result of a State election was so clearly and directly a verdict upon Wilsonism as that of Monday.

For the single issue in the Maine campaign has been Wilsonism; Wilson autocracy, Democratic inefficiency in the management of government affairs by Wilson and his self-chosen subordinates, the Wilson Covenant and League of Nations. It is idle for newspapers like our neighbor the world to extenuate by alleging a defective presentation of the Wilson side. A canvass in which two members of Mr. Wilson's Cabinet, one of them his son-in-law, were participants, and in which the Democratic candidate for Vice-President and the former chairman of the Democratic National Committee devoted their oratorical powers almost exclusively to the defense of the Covenant, can scarcely be said to be non-representative in character or inadequate in personnel. From beginning to end the President's autocratic methods, the shameless extravagance and futility of his administrative methods, and, more than all, his proposal to merge American sovereignty in an alien supergovernment were on trial before the Maine voters—particularly the woman voters—for approval or condemnation. There was no other question up.—New York Sun.

COMMON JUSTICE

Charles E. Hughes, former supreme court justice, republican nominee in 1916 for the presidency, and one of the foremost legal authorities in the United States, is an advocate of a plan for the establishment of free legal aid bureaus throughout the country for the benefit of all citizens lacking means which to employ counsel.

Judge Hughes holds that the need of those unable to pay legal fees is not only legal advice, but also skilled assistance in presenting the merits of a case. And where the opportunity for such advice and assistance is lacking, he said, it is idle to talk of "equality before the law."

The need for such service has long been recognized in this country. Many American cities have in operation, municipal legal aid bureaus for the benefit of the poor. But for the most part they serve as sources of free legal advice only, not attempting to see the applicant's grievance through court. And, for the most part, too, they are maintained by charity, which is by no means conducive to the best results, in that it places the applicant for advice in the attitude of asking for aims.

The plan of service of such institutions ought to be broadened to include professional representation in court; and the maintenance burden placed upon the municipal, state or federal government, instead of upon charity.—Atlanta Constitution.

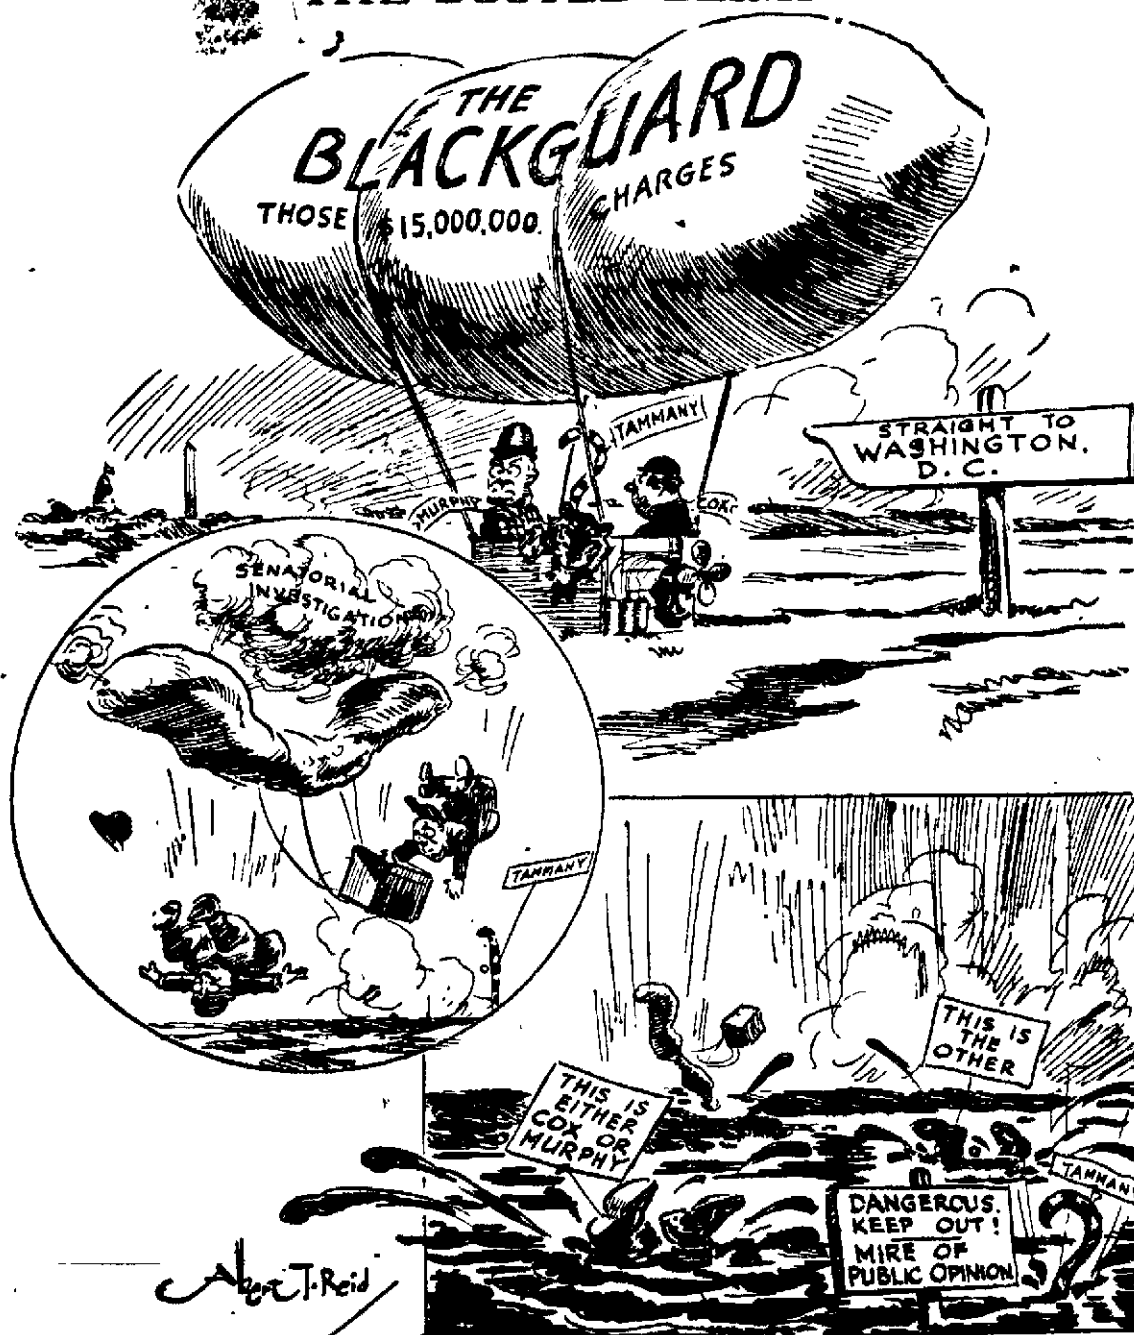

DESCHANEL'S RETIREMENT

France will have a new president probably next week, but the change will not affect the government in the least. The president has a palace for a home, a good salary for seven years, appears in public parades and demonstrations occasionally and receives foreign ambassadors, but he has practically nothing to say about making or administering the laws.

The real chief executive of France is the premier, or the president of the council of ministers, as he is known officially. That was the office held by George Clemenceau in the latter part of the war and during the making of the treaty of Versailles.

The dramatic episode of Deschanel's retirement by reason of physical incapacity is, therefore, without the political significance which would attend a change in the office of president of the United States.—Pioneer Press.

THE NONPARTISAN LEAGUE BY A FARMER'S WIFE

CHAPTER VII.

FARMER, LABOR AND THE LEAGUE

At the time the Farmers' League joined the Nonpartisan league they were told that it was to be essentially a farmers' organization, while at the present time the direct opposite is true. It is not a farmers' organization for the reason that it has continually discriminated against the farmer in favor of labor. Look at the laws placed on our statute by the present administration and you will find much more of labor legislation than of farmer legislation. This in spite of the fact that labor has always been antagonistic toward the farmer.

While the interests of the farmer and the business men have been together, that of farmers and labor have been antagonistic for the simple fact that the farmer wishes to sell at as high a price as possible and labor wishes to buy at as low a price as possible. What interests have they in common? None whatever! Yet the Nonpartisan league has continually preached that the business man is the farmer's natural enemy, and the working man his friend when it is impossible from the very condition of affairs for this to be true.

Friend of Labor.

I have no wish to see labor deprived of any beneficial legislation they may have received through the farmers' organization, but at the same time I do not believe it is fair to expect the farmers to continue to support an organization that caters to the demands of labor to the exclusion of the interests of the men for whom it was originally intended.

In every controversy between farmers and their hired help the league papers have taken the side against the farmer. Just recently one of our papers in commenting on the wages paid hired help said: "The farmers, if they expect to get help for the harvest and threshing must expect to pay the prevailing wages that would be received in the city. Unless they do they will find themselves short of help in a critical time."

Consider it Fair Play. This was written because some farmers got together and set the price they would pay at 50 cents per hour for a ten hour day with board and lodging. This was a fair wage and should compare favorably with city wages where neither board nor lodging is furnished at slightly higher pay. But evidently the league papers like some others think the farmer gets his food for nothing and should expect to pay city wages with board and lodging thrown in for good measure.

Therefore, I ask: Why should the farmer be expected to support an organization that has shown itself so unfriendly toward him, while at the same time claiming to represent his interests. But Townley is wise. He thinks he has the farmers under control and he is now out to catch labor's vote.

Why has the Nonpartisan league endorsed the Plumb Plan? Have we not seen enough of governmental interference of the railroads in time of war?

Burned Badly Enough. Somehow the very name government ownership leaves a bad taste in our mouths.

Do we care to experiment further or have we been burned badly enough? Even now we are reaping the great blessings to be gained by government ownership. In increased freight and passenger rates, delayed shipments, and inefficient management. Townley has been just as busy spreading discontent among the workers as he has among the farmers. Why has he taken his stand against Gompers, the veteran labor leader and in favor of the radical, Fitzpatrick? Does he think that Fitzpatrick would be more able to deliver the labor vote than Gompers? Why has the league always taken the part of strikers, even when thousands were freezing last winter.

In short, why has the organization sponsored by the farmers always taken its stand against the great mass of common people, and in favor of a special class?

Why has it continually sneered at the American Legion, our returned soldiers organization and stood hand in glove with the I. W. W.?

Witness the Centralia outrage where a number of our soldiers were killed. Which side did the organization representing the farmers stand on?

The I. W. W.'s, of course!

"REALTOR" IS TITLE GIVEN MEMBERS OF REAL ESTATE BOARD

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 21.—"Realtor" is the legal definition of members of real estate boards affiliated with the National Association of Real Estate Boards only, and real estate companies not members of the national association or its branches cannot apply that title, according to a decision handed down in district court here by Judge J. W. Moynihan.

The action was begun by the Minneapolis Real Estate Board, when it obtained an injunction against a telephone company restraining it from printing in its classified directory under the word "Realtor" the names of twenty-three real estate firms not members of the Minneapolis Real Estate Board.

"The decision will be important to real estate boards in every large city as use of the word has become nationwide," C. N. Caddour, of this city, a member of the national association, said, commenting on the decision. "Realtor is now defined in Webster's dictionary as a member of the national association," he said.

A BISMARCK INTERVIEW

Mrs. Reynolds Tells Her Experience.

The following brief account of an interview with a Bismarck woman twelve years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every citizen.

Mrs. N. F. Reynolds, 417 Mandan Ave., Bismarck, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have cured me of years of suffering from dull aching pains through my back and kidneys, and of other symptoms of kidney trouble. My ankles swelled and I found it difficult to get my shoes on at times. After trying several different kidney remedies without getting the least help I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at Lenhart's Drug Store and a few doses cured me so that they were a good remedy so I continued using them until all trace of my trouble had entirely disappeared." (Statement given September 23, 1907.)

On October 11, 1919, Mrs. Reynolds said: "I think just as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills as when I recommended them in 1907. I have used them on several occasions since when I have taken cold and noticed a slight return of my former trouble and I always obtain prompt relief. 50c. at all dealers. DODGERS GAIN HALF GAME IN PENNANT CHASE

Pull Up a Little on New York and Cincinnati—Indians Look Good for a Win

New York, Sept. 21.—The Brooklyn Nationals increased their lead over New York yesterday to five and a half games, while the three American League leaders all won, Cleveland retaining its game and a half lead over Chicago.

Brooklyn won from Pittsburgh and gained a half game, as New York and Cincinnati split a doubleheader. The Superbas have only to win four games out of seven to place the pennant beyond New York's grasp, and three out of seven to make it impossible for Cincinnati to reach the top.

In the American League, both Chicago and New York put much hope in the Cleveland-Chicago series beginning Thursday. The White Sox expect to overcome the Indians' lead and the Yankees feel sure that they would keep pace with Chicago by taking the Washington series and make the race half of their twelve remaining games, even a loser one. The Indians would like the White Sox would have to win six out of nine to tie them and the Yankees seven out of eight.

BALL PLAYERS RETURN TO CITY

Al Anderson, pitcher on the Bismarck baseball team this year, has returned to Bismarck and probably will remain through the winter. He visited at his home in St. Paul after the close of the season. His brother, Miller, may also return to Bismarck and Harper, third sacker, who is now at his farm in Saskatchewan, probably will winter here.

DEMPSEY BOUT IS FROWNED ON

Boston, Sept. 21.—The state boxing commission refused to sanction a bout between Jack Dempsey and Frank Moran in which the heavyweight championship would have been at stake. The match had been tentatively arranged for Revere, on Oct. 1. The commission made no announcement to its reason for refusing sanction.

ST. PAUL MAKES WINNING RECORD

Indianapolis, Sept. 21.—After Indianapolis had scored three runs in the eighth inning Sunday to tie the score, St. Paul came back in the ninth and counted four tallies and made it two straight from the Indians, 8 to 4. This was St. Paul's 10th victory, breaking the American association record for victories, which was 105, held by Minneapolis.

DIXIE SHORTSTOP PLUGS HOLE MADE BY CHAPMAN'S DEATH

Here, the Southern League shortstop recruit who has had a big job saddled on his shoulders and a great big job to do. He is Joe Sewell, who has got his chance in the big leagues before completing one full season in the minors. Note that he has wide-awake eyes and that he takes a cut at the ball which sets results.

By DEAN SNYDER
Buying a ball player for his fielding abilities and finding that he is also a nifty slugger, is the luck of Tris Speaker.

In his first games as a regular, with the Cleveland Indians Joe Sewell is cutting as big a swath with his bat as he is with his shortstop-ping. With almost uncanny foresight Speaker had already secured an option on the New Orleans player before the Ray Chapman tragedy. When the brilliant Cleveland shortstop was struck down Speaker and the Pelicans a neat sum for an immediate delivery of the Dixie pastime.

SIMPLY TOO MUCH CORN IN COUNTY

Too much corn! While county agents and others boast of the huge corn crop in the state this year, there are others who are seriously disappointed by it. "There's too much corn this fall, that's all," remarked a returned hunter to a crowd last evening. "I won't hunt prairie

So Much Liquor on Hand That Enforcement Officers Don't Know How Much

PURCHASE RECOMMENDED

BY GEORGE B. WATERS

N. E. A. Staff Correspondent.
Washington, Sept. 21.—Prohibitionists are advocating that Uncle Sam purchase the millions of gallons of whiskey in warehouses, to keep it out of bootlegging channels.

But John Kramer, prohibition enforcement commissioner, may save the government this expense and at the same time accomplish the same purpose, to wit: Transfer ownership of this booze to Uncle Sam.

Why should Uncle Sam buy this whiskey, when he can get it free? The visible supply of whiskey, and a great deal of the invisible supply, is rapidly falling into the hands of the government.

When one asks Kramer if he favors buying up the whiskey, he smiles out of the corner of his mouth and refuses to express an opinion.

He've't checked up.
"I don't know just how much whiskey we already have, and it would require a great deal of time for the legal division to compile the amount," declared Commissioner Kramer today.

"But if we should decide to have a big party and invite all the inhabitants of the United States, we could serve all those who formerly drank."

"We have good warehouses in most of the districts, and where we don't own them or have safe federal buildings, we rent warehouses," said Kramer.

What is to be done with this booze? Kramer called attention that Section 27 provided that it could be destroyed, but it may be delivered to any department or agency of the United States government for medicinal, mechanical or scientific uses, or "it may be ordered sold at private sale for such purposes to any person having a permit to purchase liquor and the proceeds go into the United States treasury."

What Chances?
"The moonshine whiskey and home brews will be destroyed," said Kramer. "Moonshine has no commercial value in respectable circles. But the bonded whiskey is being diverted to useful and legitimate channels."

"There is no provision in the law to return to the owners, any whiskey that is lawfully seized," said Kramer. "In most cases the owners try to prove they don't own it, and those who are caught red-handed have no further use for liquor in the places they are confined."

Former Revenue Commissioner Daniel Roper recommended that the large stocks of booze be purchased by the government. Commissioner William W. Wood has not expressed himself upon the matter. It will be up to the secretary of the treasury to make the recommendation to Congress and Congress must decide what action will be taken.

54 MEDAL MEN HONOR GUESTS AT CLEVELAND

Cleveland, O., Sept. 21.—Fifty-four Americans still living of the 78 who were awarded Congressional medals of honor in the world war—the highest military honor that can be bestowed on an American soldier—have been invited by the Cleveland convention committee to be its guests of honor at the second national convention of the American Legion to be held here September 27, 28 and 29. All of their expenses will be paid by the committee.

Enough of the 54 have already accepted the invitation to assure the success of the first reunion ever held of the country's highest honor men. It is proposed to have the medal of honor men form a permanent organization while they are here.

Among those who have accepted thus far are: Ralph Hill, Oregon, Ill.; Benjamin Kaufman, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Sidney G. Gumpertz, New York; John L. Bakley, Blairtown, Mo.; Joseph B. Adkinson, Atoka, Tenn.; Wade Hatler, Neosho, Mo.; Harold L. Johnston, Denver, Colo.; Earl D. Gregory, Chase City, Va.; Alan L. Eggers, New York; E. R. Talley, Russellville, Tenn.; and James C. Dozier, Rockhill, S. C.

It is in the form of a pistol, weighs but seven pounds, and will shoot 1,300 shots a minute. The gun was designed by General John T. Thompson, who was chief of the Small Arms Division of the army during the war. The picture shows Sergeant Thomas M. Shaw demonstrating the gun.

Butter, lard, coal oil and even vegetables have disappeared from the market since government prices were fixed for those articles," said the Premier. "The bread question is even more desperate than the others. The wheat in this country will barely suffice to supply bread for the next five days. Wheat contracts are being closed by the government at a very high price. The maize harvest is so bad that we have already imported 100,000 tons of it. There is no coal in the city of Lisbon where the poor are tearing up the floors to catch their food and the foreign coal is sold at such an exorbitant price that it does not even allow our fishing vessels to go to sea for fish."

In view of this crisis, the Premier appealed to Parliament for aid and efforts are being made to obtain wheat from the big farmers in the Ribatejo district.

JAGUARD KITTEN CLEANS UP SHIP

New York, Sept. 21.—William Teterjak, chief barber of a United Fruit liner between South America and New York, has come into port here with a new pet—a five-months-old jaguar. The cub jaguar made life miserable for the cook's dog, finally forcing him to commit suicide and thus making her monarch of all the animals on board.

54 men, whose deeds of conspicuous gallantry won for them the Congressional medal, will be treated royally here," said Colonel C. C. Chambers, general convention chairman. "The bravery citation of each man stands out like a beacon light in American heroism."

EMPLOYEES DECREASE

Washington, Sept. 21.—Ten out of a total of fourteen representative industries showed a decrease in the number of employees on the payroll in August, as compared with July, the department of labor's bureau of labor statistics reported in an industrial survey made public today. Figures on which the comparison was made were obtained from identical establishments.

Like Making a Cake

Making an advertisement is like making a cake. You know how recipes run: A cup of "this," a tablespoonful of "that," ten drops of the "other," and "something else" the size of a walnut.

In making an advertisement you use a number of "ingredients": Information, interest, desire, argument, praise, suggestion, and always, facts.

These advertising ingredients are carefully "attired in," in the right order and proportion, so that when the finished advertisement comes to you it is suited to your "taste."

But you must read advertisements and test them out by buying what they advertise if you would really know how valuable they are to you.

Remember how often you have refused to taste some dish, and then a long time after, you have found that it is delicious. That's just like advertising. Read advertisements for a while and you will find they are full of interest, tell you things you never knew before, and tell you the right thing to buy.
